RE: 2010 Summer Research Awards

This memo announces the 2010 Summer Research Awards (SRA) competition for faculty supported by the Office of Research and Faculty Development. The deadline for receipt of 2009 proposals is 5:00 pm, November 30, 2009. Applications are available online.

Due to the number of applications that have not conformed to the guidelines in the last two years, we are making a change to the submission process and to the guidelines. Proposals will be reviewed by staff for conformity with stated guidelines. If submitted proposals conform, notice will be given of their acceptance. If they do not conform they will be returned to the applicant no later the afternoon of December 2, 2009. Applicants will have 48 hours to resubmit in conformity with guidelines. Applications that do not conform to the guidelines by 5pm December 4th will be returned without review. If you have questions about the process, please call Mary Fechner at 63196 or Robert Long at 62293.

The purpose of the SRA program is to stimulate research by providing faculty with sustained time for scholarly and academic endeavor. Proposals may be submitted by faculty who meet the eligibility criteria (see below). It is anticipated that up to twenty awards in the amount of $4,500 each will be granted.

The Summer Research Awards Committee, composed of faculty designated by the University Senate, evaluate SRA proposals. Proposals will be judged on the basis of their scholarly or artistic merit and the extent to which they advance knowledge in a particular field. What usually differentiates proposals that receive funding from those that do not is that funded proposals are written in jargon-free language and provide a coherent and succinct statement of the project that can be understood by a committee composed of researchers from a variety of disciplines. Award recipients will be notified on or about February 15, 2009.

Please see the Proposal Guidelines, for all eligibility, proposal preparation notes and award conditions for the program. Proposal development assistance is available from RFD staff (see below).

If you have questions about the program or if you would like help with your submission, please contact Mary Fechner (346-3196) or Robert Long (346-2293). If you have accounting and award distribution questions please contact Naomi Crow (346-2873).
